2010 HOWARD PARK MUSEUM RELEASE RIESLING

“The benefit of holding riesling back for a few years shows its worth in this wine. Hopefully the price of $41 also shows its worth to both producer as its an investment. As a wine it’s starting to reach the point of beauty that only Riesling can. I suspect it will continue to develop for several years yet but it’s also drinking very well now. I took it to the table and had it with prawns, Morton bay bugs and Yellow fin tuna, wonderful. 94 points with more to come and it is value. It’s also a lesson to keep riesling for a few years and not having to pay a premium for the producer to keep it for you.”
