HOWARD PARK MIAMUP SAUVIGNON BLANC SEMILLON 2011

“While this is soft, dense and long it is still youthfully restrained. This is a fully flavoured, long and dry, serious food wine. It shows the life of quality cool area fruit from the south of the region and the lingering complex middle-palate textures and flavours...

...lightly oaked and more complex than most, this is the style where the buzz or interest is among the wine lovers and reviewers of this blend...this release will be amongst 2011’s very few finest...and most drinkable. Lovely now, this will relax even more by 2012 and even into 2013.”
