Talk straight and fair about wine – Campbell Mattinson

98/100

HOWARD PARK
CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2001

"Brilliant, long-flavoured, persistent wine with long, searing, undertowing tannins that sits like a ledge upon which it's greatness can rest. Great wines usually require great tannins, and this wine has them in perfect form - it's the kind of magnificence that sets you all a'tremor. There's also a rump of black-cored, blackcurrant-and-blackberry fruit, a slip of chocolately richness and a general cabernet dustiness - it wants for nothing. I'd score it higher, except that it will get even better with extended maturation. For mine, it's the year's best Australian wine, bar none. Drink: Now - 2025".
