Wine – John Jens

2003 HOWARD PARK

CABERNET SAUVIGNON 18.3/20

“Since the middle eighties, Howard Park’s Great Southern-based Cabernet range has been the company’s most expensive and flagship wine. They are very proud of many of the vintages including the 2001 which has received critical acclaim both locally and internationally.

Well, that’s all in the past as on our cards the soon to be released 2003 is the best in years. The wine has placid fruit of great power that has both subtlety and suppleness and while it can be drunk as early as 2007, it too will improve for 15 years – if allowed.”
