HOWARD PARK SAUVIGNON BLANC 2007

“Cool aromas of pineapple, apple, nashi pear and sprinklings of spice hint at the exceptional quality of fruit used in this 100% free-run beauty. Atop of a canvas of zesty lemon-y acidity, Tony Davis and his palette of southern Margaret River and Pemberton grapes paints a vibrant, lively picture of high-definition tropical fruit flecked with crunchy lime and lemon highlights. The flavours are almost ethereal in their purity and slowly and deliberately waltz from the front of the palate to the back, one content tastebud at a time. With the release of Howard Park’s fourth vintage sauvignon blanc, the new Howard Park and MadFish winemaker has set himself a lofty benchmark to aspire to – I’m looking forward to tasting more 2007 Howard Park wines in the future.”
