HOWARD PARK SAUVIGNON BLANC 2007

The green, grassy, herby, mouth-wateringly juicy fruit is from the portion of grapes sourced from the Pemberton region of Western Australia. For the citrus characteristics and the weighty feel say thanks to the 50% from the Margaret River. Very focused. Very crunchy and fresh.”

88/100 (3.5 out of 5)

spittoon.biz have matched the 2007 Howard Park Sauvignon Blanc with a Giorgio Locatelli recipe for a pasta dish. “Extremely Spring-like in its use of fresh broad beans and rocket it also proved a superb match for the ‘green’ flavours inherent in the Howard Park Sauvignon.”
